Would you like to lend a hand in shaping Barrington's future?

The Barrington Planning Board and land use department are looking for town residents interested in serving on the steering committee that will prepare the community facilities and utilities chapter of the town's master plan. The chapter will review current conditions and future needs of the town's public safety infrastructure, schools, public library, recreation, town hall, community services, stormwater management, and utilities.

Seven steering committee members will oversee the work and ensure ample opportunity for public participation. Membership must include one Planning Board member, and will work closely with the land use department and the Strafford Regional Planning Commission throughout the chapter's development. The goal is to have a steering committee diverse in interests and areas of expertise. The process is scheduled to begin in November and take about six to seven months.
